Onsite Advertising Opportunities

Event Marketing Works.

Year after year promotional marketing opportunities prove themselves as the best way for your company to build its brand and increase exposure while maximizing your investment in COMDEX Fall 2003.

We have the audience you want.

With event marketing you can create a complete marketing mix around the buyers who come to COMDEX--the most qualified IT buyers in the business. COMDEX draws thousands of the most empowered IT executives, decision makers, and buyers in the industry. Our event marketing gives you the chance to reach them.

BANNERS AND SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Advertising onsite is the best way to reach thousands of qualified IT buyers and industry professionals, while driving traffic to your booth. Achieve both of these goals and increase your visibility—and your bottom line.

Who are you reaching at COMDEX?

Simply put, COMDEX attracts the audience you're trying to reach.

- 53% of attendees are the decision-makers for their company
- 94% of attendees will influence their company's purchasing decisions
- 97% of attendees come to evaluate products

And the best part is—they have the money to spend. At Fall 2002, the average attendee had an annual technology budget of $1.8 million.

Put your company in front of these buyers and ensure that you're part of their decision-making process.

of the IT purchasing Cycle”*

Separate Yourself From the Pack

COMDEX is full of the latest and greatest in technology. Onsite sponsorships can increase your visibility—and your leads.

BANNERS

Fly high with messaging boards that reach all COMDEX attendees at the Convention Center. An excellent way to get your messaging and branding in front of the buyers. Concerned that they're not looking? Guess again – at Fall 2002, 93% of attendees noticed exhibitor signage and banners.

KIOSKS

Get into the heart of the action with strategically located kiosks. Your sponsorship will put you in high-visibility areas throughout the event. A great opportunity to stop traffic – and direct it to your booth.

Don't settle for ordinary.

COMDEX Fall has an array of sponsorship opportunities that will help you blow your competition away. Put your logo on a tote bag, sponsor a conference day, create a custom exposure zone, or put your name in the media break room (never hurts to have the reporters on your side!). We've also had great success with branded hotel key cards and the sponsored ice cream/coffee cart. There are just a few of the unique opportunities available, but why stop there? Contact your COMDEX Sales Representative today and find out how to get ahead of the pack.

THE PREVIEW

Make your buyers look forward to visiting your booth. The Preview is delivered to over 125,000 pre-registered attendees and targeted attendees. Highlights include the show's educational tracks, as well as content, exhibitor descriptions, product locators, and exhibitor lists. There's even a floor plan—in fact, 64% of Fall 2002 attendees visited exhibitors based on the ads in the Preview. This is your chance to make an impression! Don't delay, advertising space is limited!

PROGRAM & EXHIBITS GUIDE

We call it the Program & Exhibits Guide, but many attendees consider it the COMDEX bible. Consider that Fall 2002 attendees referred to the Guide an average of seven times each show day. Now consider the response if your company's name and messaging received that much attention, and you'll see the value of this placement.

Every registered attendee receives this perfect-bound book and looks to it for complete cross-referenced exhibitor listings, conference schedules, product index, and floor plans. Attendees also use the Guide to determine each day's "must see" booths at the event, putting your company in the right place at the right time, since 69% of Fall 2002 attendees visited exhibitors based on seeing their ads in the Guide. And an impressive 88% of attendees kept the book after the show to use as an the year's guide to who's who in the industry.

COMDEX SHOW DAILY

Get advertising impact where it counts . . . at the show! You can spend your advertising dollar anywhere, but investing in The Daily gives your message the reach it requires to meet your marketing goals for the COMDEX Fall 2003 event.

As the official newspaper of COMDEX Fall, The Daily is filled with up-to-the minute news aboutshow activities and educational programs, as well as floor plans and a comprehensive exhibitor list. With copies available every day of the exhibition, an ad in The Daily delivers will drive buyers to your booth.
